

HUMAN ORGAN	TEAM	ORGANISATION / DIVISION / DEPARTMENT	PART OF AN OFFICE BUILDING
Skin The Skin is a protective organ, acting as a barrier between the environment and the internal organs. It acts as a sensory organ sensitive to touch, temperature, pain, pressure, and itching. It also keeps the body temperature constant. It is the first port of call between our organs and the outside; it acts as a filter receptor.	Team's protection. Sensing and reacting to outside influences. E.g. noticing team pressures. The team's appearance and how the outside world sees us.	Organisation's protection. Sensing and reacting to outside influences. E.g. noticing team pressures. The team's appearance and how the outside world sees us. Visual appearance.	Property's protection. Sensing and reacting to outside influences. E.g. noticing building pressures. Keeping the building climate constant. Visual appearance. The team's appearance and how the outside world sees us.
Neurons / Synapse Neurons are nerve cells that transmit messages to and from the brain. The Synapse is the junction between two neurons.	How we communicate with each other.	How we communicate with each other.	Telecoms / IT.